Soonest | Full

Who we are

2b AHEAD Ventures is boldly venturing into an exciting tomorrow through building startup teams and accompanying them on their way to success. We develop business ideas, find the right partners and investors, and provide interested entrepreneurs with the opportunity to found these businesses with us.

For our newest project, we are seeking a founding team to disrupt the construction industry. In detail, we are automating the MEP (mechanical, electrical, plumbing) planning for buildings. Will you help millions of planners, architects, and construction firms around the world to speed up?

Whom we are looking for

As someone already interested in startups, you must have experience designing and building large and complex (yet maintainable) systems. You have incredible motivation and resourcefulness when it comes to building your own thing. You have a vision and nothing can stop you.

Skills you possess

- You have professional experience, finished studies, or are studying in one of the following technical areas: Software Engineering, Computer Science, Game Design or a similar focus
- You love to conceptualize and implement (native) software with C# or C++
- Some working experience with 3D software such as Unity, Maya, Houdini, etc.
- Some experience & knowledge in Machine Learning and/or process visualization
- Bonus: Experience & knowledge in parametrical / computational / generative Design
- You can imagine building your own team of developers and leading them
- You are motivated with a Founder's mindset and the ability to self-start
- You enjoy prototyping and the development of new software which users love to use

What we offer

- An idea, ready to start, with corresponding seed capital as well as large shares in the GmbH to be founded
- Support in team-building and finding a suitable co-founder
- Co-working and support from our Network and experts at 2b AHEAD Ventures
- Currently, we work flexibly from the home office due to COVID-19, but you're invited to join us in Leipzig, DE eventually

At 2b AHEAD Ventures, we attach great importance to a work culture that offers equal opportunities and promotes diversity for every employee. We would like to call on all interested people, regardless of their gender or gender identity, sexual orientation, origin, age, religion, or disability, to apply.
